DRAMA CLASSES. Drama has held an important place in County Central High School for several years. This year 61 students were enrolled in three classes. The Drama 20 students have not yet produced a play, but they have done a great deal of stage work and make-up as well as studying stage techniques and several plays. The two Drama 10 classes have produced four plays and written a prize-winning original play entitled "Consolidation" inspired by our own County School. Another measure of interest is seen in the very active Drama Club under Mr. Beggs which re-

School Meeting

Committee Sets Policy On Emergent Closing of Schools

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING
A definite policy governing the emergency closing schools due to blizzard or other conditions was formulated by the County of Vulcan School Committee at the regular meeting held May 8. The new policy has been set out as follows:

- All schools shall remain open unless closed by the Superintendent of Schools or, in his absence, by the secretary-treasurer of the county.
- Unless a public announcement has been made, the public have a right to expect that the schools will be open and that the teachers will be on duty. Even if buses are cancelled, the staff is expected to carry on remedial work with the youngsters who arrive at school. Conditions vary greatly in the county and it is unlikely that all schools should be closed because of conditions in one area.
- A request for the closure of a county school shall be made by the principal, or in his absence, by the vice-principal, to the Superintendent of Schools. If the superintendent is not available, the request shall be made to the secretary-treasurer of the county.
- It shall be the duty of the administration of the school to notify the staff members if the school is closed.

(d) All questions dealing with road conditions and buses shall be directed to the supervisor of buses. The Committee set the following policy in respect to out-of-county trips with buses:
(a) It was necessary to obtain permission.
(b) The county will pay for the gas, the students to pay for the driver.
(c) In cases of a special sports event requiring a team to represent the county as a whole, the county would pay the driver as well.
Attention was drawn to the fact that there were a number of windows in the Champion School which required replacement, and it was noted that two of the windows were broken by a hail storm last summer. These would

Four OGA Entries From C.C.H.S. Are Successful

Once a year, Gregg writers from all over the world submit shorthand specimens for use in the OGA International Shorthand Exhibit. Four entries from CCHS in the 54th International Gregg Shorthand Exhibit have been awarded certificates by the Committee of Examiners for "having attained a fluent and accurate style of shorthand." The four local girls receiving these certificates are Sharon Crabb, Linda Howe, Diana Webb and Carolyn Weber. During their three-year shorthand course, these girls have also received their Jr. OGA and Sr. OGA awards. In fact, each student of Shorthand 30 has merited a Jr. OGA and a Sr. OGA certificate.
The Junior OGA (Order of Gregg Artists) is offered to students as soon as they can write the Junior test in satisfactory and legible shorthand. Senior OGA certificates are issued on a more fluent and accurate shorthand writing style. All tests are judged on: smooth, fluent lines, obtained by writing with a free, easy movement; uniform size and slant; correct formation of curves; correct joinings; proper proportion in lengths of strokes and size of circles.

Drama Group Takes Second Place

Second place in the 1967 Alberta High School playwriting competition was won by Mrs. C. Graham's Drama 10A class at CCHS, Vulcan, for their play "Consolidation." Winners of the competition were announced at Red Deer on April 29, in conjunction with the first provincial High School Drama Festival.
Involved in the playwriting was the group above. From the left are: Randy Wolfe, Pam Williams, Bruce Carruthers, Mrs. Graham, Norman Dann, Geneva Kananen and Rod Minty.
The presentation was made by Mrs. Elsie Park Gowan, well-known Alberta playwright and actress. The award read: "Dear Mrs. Graham, It is my privilege to congratulate you on behalf of the Drama Division of the Cultural Development Branch, on your class coming second in the 1967 Centennial High School Playwriting Competition.
It is our hope that we will be able to find a producer for your qualify for replacement under the extended coverage clause in the insurance policy, and instructions were given to have the windows repaired and application made for a refund under the insurance policy.

The committee authorized the use of the Carmangay School auditorium for a centennial concert by the Centennial Choir to be held on June 3, 1967.
It was moved and carried that the committee grant approval to the Foothills Health Unit to conduct Baby Clinics at the Arrowwood School one day per month, and that this authorization be given on a trial basis.

A letter from A. L. Husby, Principal of County Central High School, in respect to the promotion of a Home Economics and Industrial Arts Scholarship was read. It was pointed out in the letter that the school and Students' Union were promoting the payment of a scholarship from funds donated or as a result of certain projects in the school. The plan was to advertise that the fund would welcome donations from the general public. It was moved and carried that the com-

Arrowwood Cubs Hosted By Vulcan Pack

On Wednesday, May 17 the First Vulcan "A" Wolf Cub Pack held an interclub meeting in which thirteen cubs from the First Arrowwood Pack attended. Accompanying the pack were their leader Mrs. Ruth Williams, Mrs. Eleanor Oberholtzer and Mrs. Eleanor Ward.
Various cub activities were covered to help acquaint the new cubs and leaders with the different procedures. Arrowwood is in the process of re-organizing a Wolf Cub Pack, which they have not had for several years and it is hoped that the community will give them their support.
Lunch was served to the visitors by the Vulcan Leaders which brought the evening to a close.
The annual cub camp for the First Vulcan "A" Wolf Cub Pack will be held this year from Friday, June 16 to Sunday, June 18 at the Claresholm Cub Campsite.

To Fly With Centennaires

The April 29 issue of Weekend Magazine carries an interesting feature article and pictures on the RCAF's new precision flying team, the Golden Centennaires. One of the eight crack RCAF pilots on the team is F.L.T. J. M. (Jim) McKay of Calgary, a native of the Brant district and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McKay, former well known Brant residents now living at Calgary.

The Golden Centennaires form the first RCAF precision flying team since the Golden Hawks were disbanded in 1964 and they will perform at more than 100 shows during Canada's centennial year. The aerobatic team flies the Canadair CL-41 Tutor, a highly maneuverable jet trainer that will allow them to do stunts in smaller areas than was possible with the planes used by the Golden Hawks.

5,187 Visit Caravan

Ideal Weather Greet Centennial Day As Over 5,000 Visitors Tour Caravan

Centennial Day in Vulcan, held Monday, May 22, proved to be very successful despite the fact that attendance was somewhat less than anticipated due to farmers being very busy with the late seeding season.

The Confederation Caravan was visited by 5,187 persons between noon and 11:00 p.m. and the beef barbecue, occupying a portion of main street downtown, was patronized by over 2,200 persons. The art show and tea, bingo and other activities were also well attended.

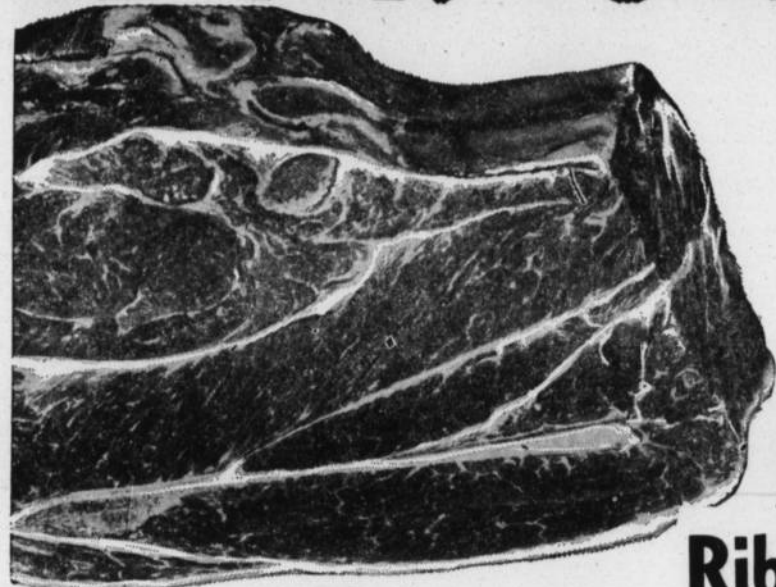

Two concerts by the Vulcan County Band, one at the Caravan site at the Elementary School and one downtown at 5:00 p.m. drew good crowds and added much to the day's program.
Crowned as Centennial Prince and Princess were Merle Wyatt and Betty Anne Cockwill, both students at the Arrowwood school. They each received a $250 bond.

The program of continuous entertainment on stage at the Caravan site drew much favorable comment from officials of the Confederation Caravan and provided entertainment for visitors all afternoon and evening. Arranged by Mrs. Barbara Hwozdecki of Carmangay, the program featured the Centennial Choir, directed by Mrs. Hwozdecki, and many individual and group acts. CHAMPION

CENTENNIAL PROGRAM

More than three hundred parents and other interested persons filled the school auditorium to capacity on Friday, May 5, when the Champion School presented a wonderful program to celebrate Canada's 100th birthday. The auditorium had been suitably decorated for the occasion complete with a giant birthday cake.

Mr. Brown thanked everyone for coming and also thanked all those who had helped with the decorations as well as costuming. He gave special thanks to Mrs. George Hummel for the many hours that she had spent at the school playing the piano for practices. The teachers then sang a couple of songs that were very much enjoyed by the parents as well as the students.

First on the program was the Primary division, under the leadership of Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Sanderson, the children held a great big party, complete with flag drill, singing game and rhythm band. The children really sang out.

The Junior High Division under the direction of Mrs. I. Smith, Mrs. G. Anderson and Mrs. H. Sanderson then presented their part of the program. A very good play, written and directed by Billy Ulrich and Bob Long, "A funny thing happened on the way to Confederation" was enjoyed by young and old.

They then filled the stage for some good old fashioned square dancing, this was followed by some songs and verses by the students of Grades 7, 8 and 9. The intermediate division under the direction of Mrs. B. Anderson, Mrs. E. Bloxham, Mrs. G. Anderson and Mrs. N. Nielson held a Miss Canada Pageant. Laurie Ellis a Grade 8 student was Miss Canada, and received gifts and foods for the birthday party from the different countries of the

A lot of time and effort on behalf of the teachers, students and a lot of parents went into the preparation of the program, and it was all really worthwhile, as it was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. A big bouquet goes to the teaching staff for their great work.

Fur Trading Post . . .

The fur trade formed the advancing frontier of European civilization as it swept across the northern half of the continent to the Pacific. Ultimately, the fur trade also represented a retreating frontier for the civilization of the Indians, who had more furs than they could use; they eagerly exchanged them for European goods such as guns and metal tools.

The fur trade led to cultural and racial interchange as well as commodity exchange. French traders and coureurs de bois married Indian women along the St. Lawrence River, around the Great Lakes and across the northwest, wherever they were trading. English and Scottish traders were not permanently posted to Canada and did not live away from their posts to the same extent as the French traders. Even so, many of them intermarried with the Indians of the Hudson Bay area, the prairies and the far west. But many of them left their children behind to be raised as Indians. Trading alliances formed and broke among Indian tribes, and between Indians and whites. Wars were fought over the lucrative fur trade as the rivalry grew between English and French, between white and Indian, between the Hudson's Bay Co. and the North-West Co.

The organization of the fur trade reflects this bitter political and corporate competition. It also reflects the harsh living conditions and the high cost of transporting heavy trade goods and supplies up the rivers of the eastern Canadian drainage basins. These problems were conquered with an organization based on tough central authority and fortified outposts. The trading posts aimed to dominate their territories completely. They discouraged the encroachment of settlers on the wilderness, except in areas where the trading posts wanted agricultural support for themselves.

These autocratic outposts strengthened their rule over the wilderness when the two rival fur trading companies merged, but eventually, slowly and grudgingly they yielded their grip as the fur supply dwindled and the frontiers of heavy settlement moved westward. Industrialization followed, quickened by gold rushes, the advent of steam powered transportation, and the formation of strong central government provided by Act of Union and Confederation. (This historical feature is one of a series which readers may wish to clip and save.)

THE HOMEMAKER

MISS FRANCES ANN CULLEN

District Home Economist

Box 480, Vulcan — Phone 485-2117

Dear Homemakers:

Let's talk about the new Wall Coverings that are coming on the market to-day. They are expensive, but should take years of wear and washing without losing their looks.

Vinyl wall coverings backed with fabric are to ordinary wallpaper what vinyl floor covering is to linoleum—more durable, more resistant to soiling and mildew, and easier to clean.

You can use vinyl/fabric coverings wherever you would use wallpaper—and in many places where wallpaper would be unsuitable. Many of those that were tested, for example, would stand up well in basements, kitchens, bathrooms, and other areas where heavy abuse or exposure to moisture would rather quickly do in ordinary wallpaper. These vinyl-fabric wall coverings should also be far more resistant to abrasive abuse than regular wallpapers coated with vinyl. The vinyl/fabric wall coverings are still quite expensive, however, and therefore not necessarily a better choice than wallpaper or paint in every application.

COST A LIMITING FACTOR

At the present prices it would cost from $65 to $100 to cover 100 square feet, assuming that you did the work yourself. With vinyl coated wallpaper, the cost would probably be $10 to $45. Ordinary wallpaper would run as low as $7.50 or as high as you care to pay. Paint to cover the same area would cost somewhere between $3 and $8 depending on the type of paint used.

Vinyl/fabric wall coverings must be weighed carefully against their cost. If you used a vinyl/fabric product in a room that you would normally redecorate every couple of years, you would pay for a lot of durability that was never used. Vinyl/fabric wall covering with woven-fabric back stands up better to abrasion and cleans better. Most all types of vinyl/fabric wall coverings can be cleaned with a detergent solution without showing signs of fading or wear. And you can choose a pattern that doesn't show the dirt or abrasion as much—one with several colors is better than one color, or a small pattern without much definition, rather than a large well defined one. If you have a room that gets several hours of direct sunlight per day, it is best to avoid patterns with metallic pigments, as these tend to fade in direct sunlight.

STAIN REMOVAL

CU tested these vinyl/fabric wall coverings for several stains including crayon, pencil marks, ball-point pen ink, mustard and lipstick. Detergent solutions removed most of them easily without damaging the coverings. Although it was impossible to test all cleaning compounds on all the different patterns and colors available, CU tried to remove three of the most difficult stains (lipstick, mustard and ink) with three strong cleaning compounds (turpentine, alcohol and bleach) often available in the home.

Lipstick and mustard could be removed with turpentine or a petroleum-based solvent, but these solutions may fade, weaken or wrinkle some coverings. Alcohol removes the ball-point ink, but can damage certain colors and surfaces. Bleach should only be considered as a last-resort cleaner as it did the most damage in the CU tests.

Before using anything stronger than detergent on a tough stain, CU suggests that you reproduce the stain on a left-over piece of the covering and try cleaning it to see what might happen.

I am not anxious about my battles. If I am anxious I don't fight them. I wait until I am ready.

R. C. R. MUNRO,
Editor and Publisher
P. M. Pickersgill, Assistant Editor

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Advocate.
Dear Sir:

I have taken it upon myself to send to you a short letter, telling you of the success a local girl is having in the east with her work in the theatre.

Miss Eda Lever was nominated best director recently, at the Hamilton CYO Drama Festival. The festival lasted three days, May 12, 13 and 14, consisting of 11 plays from Hamilton and surrounding district drama groups.

Eda has been a member of the Hamilton Theatre Incorporation and the St. Thomas Players, since last fall, and has been active in both these groups. Early in March the Hamilton CYO Board of Directors chose nine directors to do their plays. Unfortunately one of the directors just couldn't last the play out, so late in April Eda was asked of she would take over. She was warned it would be an arduous task as the other directors had a good head start. This did not discourage Eda, and even though she was already helping with two other shows, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," and "The Offshore Island," she was only too glad to be offered the challenge.

For three weeks, Eda would work at the office till 6:00, catch a bus, (when one of her many admirers couldn't make it), go directly to either of the shows, or on to rehearse her own play.

It was a real strain but she pulled through. She said, "It was a hectic time but I loved every worrying, rehearsing, yelling and chiding moment of it... I was surprised to learn just how much one can accomplish in 24 hours... Even squeeze in sleep???"

To top it all off, the cast had to be dismissed for a week's recess because of a trip to Expo! Three days before the play went on, Eda was still putting her cast through the rigid, long hours of steps and lines... She even rehearsed them on the same morning of the play. "I would never ever do that under ordinary circumstances, where a play has a programmed time limit," she said, "but I gambled and it paid off."

It really did pay off for Eda, the youngest director in the group, she was nominated that night, May 14, one of the best directors in the festival. Her play also received two other nominations, best supporting actress, and best supporting actor. Unfortunately the play only received one award... the best supporting actor award. He said it was all due to his director.

It was a delight to see what she had done with the inexperienced group. There was a definite professional finish to the play.

"I learned a lot from being involved with this play, especially about community theatre. This is the first attempt I have had to direct a play on the semi-professional level. It has the finest of professionalism without the coldness of it."

Eda was simply thrilled with two comments from older directors, (A) "A female did that!" and the other from her cast (B) "We can't wait till next season, and I hope we get the same director."

As a personal comment I would like to add that it has been a wonderful experience to be involved with Edna. She is a very refreshing individual with an earthy warmth and sensitivity. Her keen perception and unhypercritic love of her fellow man, makes her very easy to know. She lives by a philosophy all her own and if more people lived and loved as she does, we would certainly some day achieve peace.

Yours truly,
"A Fellow Director"

Editor, The Advocate.
Dear Sir:

I have been given permission by the School Committee of the County of Vulcan to establish a Vocational Scholarship to help students from our non-academic programs who proceed to technical school for further training.

The purpose of the scholarship is to encourage excellence in the fields of both Home Economics and Industrial Arts at County Central High and to offer some encouragement to students to proceed to a Technical Institution for more training in these fields.

The Scholarship will be awarded to a grade 11 or 12 girl and to a grade 11 or 12 boy who completed at least three courses in (a) Home Economics or (b) Industrial Arts during their grade 11 or 12 year, who have attained a mark in these courses that is commensurate with their ability and who are proceeding to a Technical Institution for further training in Home Economics or Industrial Arts.

A Committee, consisting of the Principal and Vice-Principal, High School Home Economics and Industrial Arts teacher will determine for any given year (a) the students to receive the scholarship (b) whether or not more scholarships should be awarded (c) whether or not any scholarship is awarded. The criteria here will be that the committee reserves the right to not award the scholarship to either a Home Economics or Industrial Arts student or both if there are no suitable candidates.

Anyone wishing to contribute to this scholarship may do so at the County office or at the school office. Cheques should be made payable to the County of Vulcan and a note or letter designating that the money is for the Vocational Scholarship fund.

Yours truly,
A. L. Husby.

Plans were made for a bridal shower for Marilyn Green, to be held June 5 in the basement. Rev. Pelham brought a devotional concerning women's role in the home and outside the home. Minota Schuler showed some interesting slides taken in Hawaii.

A delicious lunch was served by Lynne Middleton and Charlene Spaeth, assisted by the hostess.

LOMOND Centennial Concert

ODD WANNEBO

NOWEGIAN BASS SOLOIST

Monday, June 5th, at 8:00 p.m.

In the Lomond Civic Centre

Odd Wannebo was born in the famous little town of Namsos, Norway. From his earliest childhood he showed interest and rare talent for music. He played in several children's bands and orchestras always receiving encouragement from his music-loving mother. Along with music, he showed an early ability in art and won several contests with his paintings and drawings. In fact, he had determined to become an artist and traveled to Oslo for training.

While in Oslo his talented bass voice was discovered when singing with a group of fellow students for the prisoners in one of Oslo's penal institutions. His potentiality as a singer was recognized and he was invited to study with Norway's leading voice teachers. Within six months he was singing in the chorus of the opera. It was at one of these performances that Kirsten Flagstad, the world's greatest Wagnerian soprano, heard him sing and started him on his way to further study. Through her encouragement, Mr. Wannebo entered and completed a four-year study course in the Academy of Music in Vienna, Austria.

After a half year's study in Vienna, he was awarded the largest scholarship Norway had ever given to an artist. While in study Odd Wannebo won several musical contests and through theatre, radio engagements and recordings his reputation became well known and he was recognized as a rising young star. He graduated from the Music Academy in Vienna completing study courses in all areas of vocal art. He sings in about 10 different languages and speaks fluent English.

After his debut in Norway, he presented Opera Concerts in Yugoslavia, Austria, Germany, England, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Iceland. In the fall of 1963 he was invited to New York. While he has performed in both opera and the theatre, he is mainly attracted to concert singing. He has concluded three successful tours throughout the States. He is currently on his second tour through Western Canada.

The program which he will present in Lomond will range from Classical numbers to Folk Songs. He is particularly popular for his Folk Songs which he sings to his own guitar accompaniment. An Odd Wannebo concert is a delightful experience for people of all ages, and in all walks of life.

Tickets are now on sale through the various clubs in the Lomond area. Ticket prices are set at $1.50 for Adults, $1.25 for Students and $1.00 for children 12 and under. For additional information and tickets please contact Mrs. G. Hendrickson, Box 160, Lomond, or phone 792-3691. Funds realized will go to the Lomond Lions Club for their Centennial Playground Project.

CARAVAN DISPLAY. The first explorers looked in vain for the treasures of the Orient, but found a fortune of another kind in the fur trade. Beaver, fox and bear pelts are piled on a trapper's wooden sled (lower right) and above is a beaver pelt on a wooden stretcher for curing. Overhead hangs a voyageur's canoe. This is one of the displays that were seen in the Centennial Caravan at Vulcan on Monday, May 22.

Our Alberta Heritage THE "SOD BUSTER"

With your mind's eye, follow that tall man on the dusty street of the Alberta village. He has a lean, get-it-done look about him. In any setting he would be tagged as Man of the Land... an Alberta farmer. Many years ago, his father came west to build a new life with other freedom-loving people. And with our farmer of today, there walks the spirit of independence and determination that marked his forbears. In the old days, when his kind came to town, the loungers called him "Sod-Buster" with a touch of derision. Today, "Sod-Buster" is a title to be worn with honour! Of course, he was a "Sod-Buster". The virgin sod that turned up its richness at the bite of his father's plough welcomed these strong hands, and the free mind that guided them. Today, his sons use modern cultivating machinery pulled by tractors, but their pioneer ancestry shows through in the way they meet their problems with reason and clear thinking. This is the heritage of independence and determination that marks OUR ALBERTA. Courtesy Calgary Power Ltd.

CANADA'S CENTENNIAL In this Centennial of Confederation, the people of Canada look back with humility and thanksgiving upon the splendor of its heritage and growth, its basic freedoms and spiritual and moral foundations.

Canada is a country of challenge and opportunity, a land of great beauty, filled with natural resources; but above all, a place where people live and love, labour and build, dream and plan, free to fulfill their destiny under God.

We are a people of many origins, cultures, traditions and religious faiths, sharing a common country.

These words are part of the Declaration made by the Canadian Interfaith Conference.

These words sum up this great land of ours. We have a great heritage that has been handed down to us. As we are celebrating this Centennial Year, with all of its activities, projects and events, are we taking time to worship God? This land of ours was founded by our forefathers who desired a land in which they and those who followed them could worship God in freedom and truth. We can become so busy and involved in our daily activities that we do not leave room for God. We are independent enough to think we can get along without Him, but let us turn our hearts and minds back to God and to worshipping him in this Centennial Year.

ing is Mrs. Alice Clifford. Roll call will be a white elephant exchange. The June 13 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Sande. On lunch will be Mrs. Ivy Goldthorpe and Mrs. Mary Frost.

Mrs. June Degenstein and Mrs. Alice Clifford, along with the hostess served a delightful lunch.

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home-grown hops give it the lively taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Others demand our Lethbridge lager — they call it 'bridge. This bright and bracing beer makes the most of its premium malt. The smooth, uniform taste is largely due to our own pure yeast and hops. Micro-filtered 'bridge is mellow, naturally-aged lager beer at its best!

DEPARTMENT OF MANPOWER & IMMIGRATION

"WHAT'S THE NEW CANADIAN DAIRY COMMISSION DOING ABOUT FEDERAL GOVERNMENT PRICE SUPPORTS?"

■ The new Canadian Dairy Commission took its first step in furthering the development of a sound, efficient dairy industry in its stabilization program for the year starting April 1, 1967.

■ It is supporting market prices of major dairy products at levels which are equivalent to about 29 cents a hundred more than a year ago for manufacturing milk testing 3.5%.

■ The federal government is providing funds to the Commission for a subsidy to manufacturing milk and cream shippers equivalent to $1.21 a hundred for 3.5% milk. The rate last year was 85c. From the $1.21 there will be a holdback equivalent to 11c for export price equalization, with any unused amount refunded at the end of the year.

■ Basis for the payment will be the volume of manufacturing milk and cream required for the Canadian market, approximately the amount for which subsidies were paid to manufacturing milk and cream shippers in 1966-67.

■ After mid-May, when 1966-67 records are completed, each registered producer will be informed of the volume for which he will be eligible for subsidy in 1967-68. This will be based on the volume for which he received subsidy in 1966-67. The amount for the year will be broken down into monthly quotas, based on the normal percentage of milk and cream marketed each month. Those who received subsidy for less than 50,000 pounds (1,750 pounds butterfat) last year will be eligible for subsidy up to that amount this year.

■ This new program, in terms of price support and subsidies, represents an increase of 65c, or 16%, over the federal program for 1966-67. It is over a dollar, or 33%, higher than in 1965.

■ What's the new Dairy Commission doing to help improve the dairy industry? Quite a lot. And it's only the beginning.

CARMANGAY HOME AND SCHOOL REQUESTS HISTORICAL ITEMS

As a Centennial project, the Carmangay Home and School are trying to put together a history of Carmangay and area, to do this we need your help.

What old stories or anecdotes do you know of Carmangay and district? Who was the first doctor, school teacher, minister, mayor? Where was the first school, hospital, church, etc.? Who ran the first store? Who were the first homesteaders and what happened to them and their descendants?

Please write down any stories, said or funny, historical or just plain interesting, sign them and send them to Miss Glen Church.

We need the help of all of you who had pioneer ancestors or friends or were yourselves pioneers to make this history a success. We hope to make a book that will be read with interest for many years to come. Help us to give all the old timers of this area a place in it.

Please help us to do something about it now! We would appreciate it if we could have your stories as soon as possible.

U.C.W. HOLDS MOTHER'S DAY TEA

The Carmangay U.C.W. held their Mother's Day Tea on May 12 in the church basement.

President Hazel Lyckman welcomed all ladies. A short program was held which consisted of these items.

Mabel Hillard gave a reading entitled "A Little Girl's Essay on Grandmother." Four selections were sung by the group named "Mamas Without the Papas." Reading by Frances Burns. A solo by Ethel Nelson. A reading by Alice Miller. Lenora Baldwin was piano accompanist.

Plants were given out to the oldest mother present who was Mrs. Julia Gower; the mother with the most grandchildren being Edith Fraser; Marny Downs was the youngest grandmother present and youngest mother present was Charlene Brown.

Lunch was served by the ladies to conclude the afternoon.

MOTHERS MEET

Meeting of Mothers of Brownies, Guides and Rangers took place in the school on May 16 with Mrs. Margaret McLeod, acting president.

The Barbie doll, lovely case and extensive wardrobe to be raffled were shown at the meeting and we wonder who the lucky little girl will be who wins this beautiful prize.

Each mother was given a book of tickets to sell. The draw will be made at the Potluck Picnic which will take place on May 31 at the camp kitchen. This event brings Brownies, Guides and Rangers. Some money was turned in from the Hobo Teas and these will continue.

The Mothers' Association will serve lunch at the School on Friday, May 26 for the children and the observers attending the Science Fair.

LOMOND

LOMOND HOME AND SCHOOL

The regular meeting of the Lomond Home and School was held on May 10th. The meeting opened with repeating a parents code of ethics. There were 13 members present.

Plans are completed for the graduation banquet. The 4-H sewing class will serve the lunch at the dance.

The question of vans arriving late was discussed and Mr. Lebreich will send a circular to the van drivers regarding this matter. When asked if the large grade 6 class of next year would be under one teacher, Mr. Lebreich replied he was quite sure that it would be.

Some Home and School problems were discussed, such as membership, executive for the coming term, interest in Home and School and the possibility of this local Home and School Association folding. A motion was made by Mrs. Melvin Magnuson that we not have a nominating committee this year but elect from the floor next month. Mrs. Martin Maronda and Mrs. Fred Crawford agreed to make phone contacts to see if there are any members or future members interested in being on the executive.

For the program, Mr. Hirst, the president of Bill and Co., who handle the Student Insurance Plan was invited to speak. Since the County policy no longer allows the teaching staff to handle the students' policies, the parents were invited to hear Mr. Hirst and see what solution could be arrived at. The alternative, unless the County policy be changed, is that each parent will privately send in their own policy as the teachers may still hand out the envelopes. If it were done this way, there would have to be a dead-line set and a fair number of students participating in.

HOG ENTERPRISE ANALYSIS PUBLICATION

The 1965 Alberta Hog Enterprise Analysis report, just released by the Alberta Agricultural Economics Division, shows the wide variations that exist in profit margins for both farrow-to-finish and feeder-hog enterprises in the province as a result of differences in management efficiency.

The study, upon which the enterprise analysis report is based, shows the 1965 returns and costs for 30 farrow-to-finish enterprises and eight feeder-hog enterprises located in the black and thin black soil zones of the province. The farrow-to-finish enterprises ranged in size from five to 50 sow units with the average having 21.7 sows. The average feeder enterprise produced 50,200 pounds of live market hogs. The feeder enterprises ranged in size from 14,900 to 162,300 pounds of live market hogs produced.

The average gross return on the farrow-to-finish operations was $14,315 or $24.64 per 100 pounds available from this office.

of live market hog produced. Production per sow averaged 1.8 litters per year and 7.8 pigs were weaned per litter. Wide variations were observed in the number of litters farrowed per year and the number of pigs weaned per litter on the farms studied.

Total production costs on the farrow-to-finish enterprises were $9,325 of $16.05 per 100 pounds of live market hog produced. Feed consumption and feed costs per 100 pounds of live production varied more from one farm to another than any other cost. The study showed that many farmers could improve their profit margin by adopting management practices aimed at increasing gross returns or reducing production costs.

Gross returns per 100 pounds of production on the farrow-to-finish enterprises tended to decrease slightly as the size of the unit increased. Similarly, total variable costs, fixed costs, and labour costs per 100 pounds of production decreased slightly as the size of the unit increased. The net return to labour and management per 100 pounds of production was smallest on the large enterprises.

The report shows that the average gross return for the feeder enterprises was $11,191 or $22.27 per 100 pounds of live hog produced. Average costs were $13.29 per 100 pounds of production with feed comprising 69.2 per cent of this figure.

In addition to analysis data on the farrow-to-finish and feeder-hog enterprises, the report contains information on seasonal price variations and the use of the partial budget for efficient farm management planning. Forms for enterprise analysis are also included.

Copies of the 1965 Alberta Hog Enterprise Analysis report are $14,315 or $24.64 per 100 pounds available from this office.

Vulcan Bride To Live At Fort Macleod

Central Church of Christ, Vulcan, was the scene of a winter evening wedding on Saturday, Feb. 25, 1967, at 7:00 p.m., when, in a candlelight ceremony, Shirley Diane Deal, younger daughter of Mrs. George Deal of Vulcan became the bride of David James Butters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Blackmore of Cardston. Ronald J. Pelham officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

BLACKMORE - DEAL

Before the ceremony, Cameron Atwood, accompanied by Miss Marilyn Harris, sang "Al-di-lah," and during the signing of the register, sang "The Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Jean Gardner presided at the organ.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Victor Deal. She wore a floor-length gown of white satin with a high wide neckline and wrist-length sleeves. The A-line skirt featured a wide band of lace and lifted into narrow piping, emphasizing the tiny Empire waistline. Her four-layered finger-tip veil of nylon tulle misted from a satin pillbox headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep red American beauty roses. A single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, completed her bridal ensemble.

Maid of honor was Miss Annalene Havinga. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Blackmore and Miss Loral Bly, and candlelighters were Misses Linda and Beverly Deal. Their frocks were identical floor-length gowns of red velvet lifting into a white satin empire bodice. Each wore a matching red velvet pillbox hat, and carried a bouquet of red and white candy-striped carnations.

Tall candelabra and baskets of red and white roses and carnations were used to decorate the church. Gerald Coleman was the best man, and guests were ushered by Monty Anderson and Linn Wilde.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Deal was attired in a three-piece red and white double knit suit. Black accessories with a corsage of red and white candy-striped carnations enhanced her ensemble. The groom's mother wore a navy blue three-piece suit, accented by a coral carnation corsage.

At the reception for 125, held at the Vulcan Lodge Hall, Doug Smith was master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by the best man, Gerald Coleman. The white triple-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, was surrounded by a mist of white nylon tulle and crowned with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Moira Blackmore, sister of the groom, rendered two solos, "Wouldn't it be Lovely" and "The Hawaiian Song." The groom's father, Pete Blackmore, gave a very entertaining recitation, and Mary Blackmore, one of the bridesmaids sang "The Sweetheart Tree" while accompanying herself on the autoharp.

For going away, the bride changed into a black two-piece double knit dress with a black bowler hat and red patent shoes and handbag. A corsage of lilac orchids completed her costume.

Following a short honeymoon to Edmonton, the couple have taken up residence in Fort Macleod.

Seeding General This Week

The warm, drying weather has continued this past week and seeding is now fairly general over the entire country.

Runoff from the heavy snowstorms caused many new sloughs to form and filled others that had been dry for some time, particularly in the southern part of the county where the snowfall was heavier and soft spots in many fields are a hazard this spring.

There will be some increase, probably about 10%, in the acreage sown to barley this year but otherwise not much change in the normal seeding practices in this area.

Broken Glass

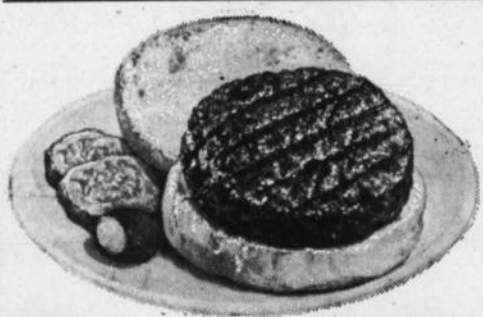

Broken glass is a difficult thing to get rid of and dangerous to have around. Do not toss broken glass or sharp metal into waste containers where anyone handling the material could be cut. At the cottage, don't throw broken bottles or other glass into the lake — it might wash up to the shore or to the bottom of a favorite diving spot. Put glass or china fragments into tines and bury the whole thing.
